If I Had My Life To Live Over

I would have talked less and listened more.

I would have invited friends over to dinner even if the carpet was stained, or the sofa faded.

I would have eaten the popcorn in the ‘good’ living room and worried much less about the dirt when someone wanted to light a fire in the fireplace.

I would have taken the time to listen to my grandfather ramble about his youth.

I would never have insisted the car windows be rolled up on a summer day because my hair had just been teased and sprayed.

I would have burned the pink candle sculpted like a rose before it melted in storage.

I would have cried and laughed less while watching television and more while watching life.

I would have gone to bed when I was sick instead of pretending the earth would go into a holding pattern if I weren’t there for the day.

Instead of wishing away nine months of pregnancy, I’d have cherished every moment and realized that the wonderment growing inside me was the only chance in life to assist God in a miracle.

When my kids kissed me impetuously, I would never have said, “Later.”

There would have been more “I love you’s”...more “I’m sorry’s.”

But mostly, given another shot at life, I would seize every minute...look at it and really see it...live it...and never give it back.

Stop sweating the small stuff. Don’t worry about who doesn’t like you, who has more, or who’s doing what. Instead, let’s cherish the relationships we have with those who do love us.

Let’s think about what God has blessed us with. And what we are doing each day to promote ourselves mentally, physically, emotionally, as well as spiritually.

Life is too short to let it pass you by. We only have one shot at this and then it’s gone. I hope you all have a blessed day.

You Need to Know

Birthdays this week:

Sunday, Dec. 6 – Colvin Everett

Tuesday, Dec. 8 – Kyle Phelps & Leslie Read

Wednesday, Dec. 9 – Alisan Rutland & Gary Savage

Friday, Dec. 11 – Connie Kerrigan & Jayden Keene

Anniversary this week:

Wednesday, Dec. 9 – Johnny & Beverly Hearn

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Dan Albritton in their loss. He passed away last Thursday.

The ladies of the congregation are invited to the Heart Sisters Christmas fellowship and devotional this Tuesday, Dec. 8th at 6 p.m. here at the building. Please bring a finger food (no dip please because of Covid). Heart Sisters, if you’d like to contribute to gifts for our adopted family, you can bring it to the meeting.

The Christmas fruit baskets and gift bags will be assembled this Wednesday, Dec. 9th. A sign-up sheet is posted on the bulletin board for needed items. Please have items here today. Items can be placed on the table in the serving room. Anyone who is able to help, please be here at 3 P.M. this Wednesday.

Anyone who cannot find distanced seating in the auditorium is welcome to participate in the worship services from the fellowship room. The service is being livestreamed and there are communion items there.

Please see Eddy Jo about Ben & Misti’s gift and Pat about Larry & Judy’s gift.

Does God Live Here?

The little boy rang the doorbell and greeted the woman who answered. “Does God live here?” he asked. “Why, of course not!” was her reply. Her husband later asked why she did not tell the boy that God lived in her and that she tried to do His work through service and love and obedience. The lady replied, “That is not what he asked. He wanted to know if God lives here.”

When we become Christians we are joined in spirit with Jesus Christ. He comes to live in the spirit of man and we are members of Christ. Being in Him makes us want to choose the relationships and activities that would please Him.

Our bodies and our life direction are very important to God. We are His temple, holy, and set apart for the Spirit of God. He has bought us and taken up residence! “Yes!” God does live here. And His presence in us will make a difference today in how we speak, and act, and think.
